ACCESSIBILITY.

Hayes Station, on the Southern Electric Railway, is a short distance from Coneyhall, and there are frequent services to Charing Cross, Waterloo, Cannon Street and London Bridge. The journey to London takes 30 minutes.

The 146 bus service from Lewisham to Westerham via Bromley and Hayes passes close to the Estate.

There is a proposed bus route to pass Coneyhall which will link up with Hayes and Bromley South Stations.

Morrell's own bus service is in operation for the use of residents and visitors, free of charge. It is a 12-minute service.

SHOPPING.

When the nature of this great Estate is realised, it will be seen that one of the objects of its organisers and developers is to make it practically a self-contained unit, and to this end a really fine shopping centre is coming into being on the Estate itself, for the benefit of residents.

Meantime there is no lack of shopping facilities, for Hayes and Bromley are both good shopping centres, in which the local tradesmen are shewing great enterprise by keeping more than abreast of the rapidly increasing demands of the district, while the system of delivery and calling for orders greatly simplifies the housewife's daily task of obtaining her household supplies.

SCHOOLS.

As mentioned overleaf, the Rector is planning the erection of a school and hall actually on the Estate, for the use of residents, and there are many now in existence which are within easy reach.

Ten minutes' walk from the Estate is a Council school, in Hawes Lane, served by Morrell's free bus, the school has recently
